James Mapes

Exclusively represented by the Washington Speakers Bureau

About the Presentations: All Mapes' programs share a common theme: showing people how to "think outside the box." Sample presentations (45 minutes - 3 hours):

- The Empowerment Paradigm - A Quality Commitment

Empowerment is the enabler of the quality process. Mapes provides insight and tools for managers and employees to create ownership by pushing decision-making down the organization and fostering an empowered spirit which encourages risk-taking.

- The Holographic Team

Self-managed, self-directed teams are the key to innovation and organizational excellence. Mapes shows managers the keys to creating productive teams, including: developing partnerships; building on common values; and empowered communication.

- The Challenge of Change - A Matter of Perspective

How people view and use change makes the difference between defeat, survival or taking the Quantum Leap. Mapes offers practical ideas on how to: support managed change in others; create an environment which produces change; and uncover the opportunities that change creates by looking at change in a whole new way.

- Vision - Unleashing the Power of One

Vision provides focus, unity and inspiration and is the driving force behind organizational and individual achievement. Mapes program defines what a vision is, how to create, develop and incorporate vision into the values of each member of the organization.

- The Creativity Connection

New realities demand new thinking. In a humorous and practical program, Mapes presents a guide to liberate creative thoughts - in the individual, the corporate team or organization. Learn effective problem-solving and brainstorming methods, creative strategies and how to create a climate where creative communication benefits the bottom line.

- Quantum Leap Thinking - Going Beyond Your Limits

Mapes provides the 10 steps to take the Quantum Leap. Interactive program where people learn to apply imagination, take risks, manage change, turn fear into power, challenge ambiguity, shift paradigms, create support and foster growth in others.

About James Mapes:

- Creator of Quantum Leap Thinking, a program that shows how to "think outside the box." Teaches the business survival skills of the 90's: the ability to learn, the ability to think creatively, the ability to manage change.
- Teaching people how to be their best since 1974 when he created two popular programs: PSI Training; and CHOICES. Driven by his favorite quote from Albert Einstein, "It's fun to do the impossible."
- Charismatic, one-of-a-kind presenter whose ideas, charm, and magnetism have earned him a 97% rebooking rate. In the top 2% of the industry.

What People Are Saying:

- "On a scale of 1 to 10, our 300 members rated you a 9.8. I have never experienced such a positive reaction..."
John Kawula, President, Point of Purchase Advertising Institute
- "All of the preparation and efforts to tie in your comments with the specific theme of the meeting made your ideas all the more convincing to our audience."
Shannon Burchett, Vice President, Popsi Cola Sweetners
- "...you were ranked by our people as the best conference speaker. Our sincere appreciation for the fine job you did and for putting the up-front time into learning about our company and tailoring your presentation so nicely to the issues facing our people."
Ed McCraw, Manager-Communications, GTE
